

Summer Programme For Fudan Students

- Excellent opportunity to experience London and LSE
- A unique taster combination of LSE100, Intercultural Communication from LSE academics and insights from industry leaders
- A chance to develop your academic study skills at LSE
- Educational trips and social activities during the programme

Option	Application deadline	Course starts	Fee
1	28 Feb 2025	4 Aug 2025	£2,900 (tuition with LSE accommodation, single room shared bathroom)
2	28 Feb 2025	4 Aug 2025	£3,150 (tuition with LSE accommodation, single room shared bathroom, 2 full-day Sat trips*)
3	28 Feb 2025	4 Aug 2025	£1,800 (tuition ONLY)

Trip 1: Cambridge University – 9 Aug 2025

This trip includes a punting experience on the River Cam, a visit to the iconic King's College, and free time to explore the historic surroundings of Cambridge.

Trip 2: Oxford University & Blenheim Palace – 16 Aug 2025

This excursion features a visit to Christ Church College at Oxford University, along with ample free time to discover the city's charm, followed by a tour of the magnificent Blenheim Palace.

Both trips offer private coach pick-up and drop-off from LSE accommodation and include tailor-made itineraries designed only for our summer students to fully explore and experience these renowned destinations.

Please note: the final itinerary may be subject to adjustments based on the final group size and programme logistics.

TOPICS

- Topic 1: Climate change, Governance, Intercultural Communication
- Topic 2: Artificial Intelligence, Western Political Thoughts, Linguistic Politeness and Rapport Management
- Topic 3: Fair Society, Social justice and economic reform, Leadership and Self Presentation

LSE100

- LSE100 course is LSE's flagship interdisciplinary course for undergraduate students
- Designed to broaden and deepen students' engagement with social scientific analysis
- Uses pressing social issues as case studies for exploration of the ways different theories, methods and evidence can shape our understanding of events and phenomena

